SURGICAL SOLUTIONS

OUR SERVICES

Make Change that's Built to Last

Most consulting engagements end with a report. Ours start with one.

When something isn't working or when you're ready to grow, sometimes you need guidance from people who've actually done the work. Not from a team that studied your industry from a conference room, but from clinicians and operators who've run ORs, managed reprocessing workflows, launched new service lines, and cleaned up the problems that happen when those things go wrong.

Surgical Solutions consults the way we do everything else: embedded, accountable, and invested in the health of your department long after we leave.

How We Help

Project Planning

Expanding an OR suite, redesigning workflows, adding a new service line, or just trying to fill vacant block time with the right cases? We help you think it through from drop-off to discharge so the project lands right.

- OR expansions and renovations
- Workflow redesign
- Scheduling optimization
- Technology implementation
- Milestone and stakeholder management

Regulatory Assessment

We've helped customers emerge from accreditation reviews recognized for exceptional practice, not cited for deficiencies. Our team knows what The Joint Commission and DNV are actually looking for, because we see it across dozens of facilities in real-time. We conduct mock surveys, identify gaps before surveyors do, and build action plans you can actually execute.

- Joint Commission readiness
- CMS compliance reviews
- AORN standards alignment
- Policy and procedure gap analysis
- Mock surveys and action planning

Why It Works

We don't stop at diagnosis.
We look across the whole workflow to find where problems actually start, and then we stay to help you fix them. Not a report. An outcome.

We stay invested.
Our goal is a program that outlasts the leader who built it. not a one-time fix.

We have national exposure.
Active in city hospitals and rural systems, academic centers and independent ASCs. When The Joint Commission updates its focus areas, we've already seen it in the field.

If a consulting engagement reveals an opportunity for a stabilization project or long-term engagement with the Surgical Solutions team, a portion of your investment converts toward that partnership. You don't pay to identify the problem and then pay again to fix it.
